

Allison Angelo, soprano SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Hailed as “a fabulous discovery” by the Toronto Star, Canadian soprano Allison Angelo debuts this season with Voicebox: Opera In Concert's presentation of Salieri's Falstaff with the Aradia Ensemble, and will be heard in recital with the Off-Centre Music Salon. In her 2014-15 season, she starred as Mabel Hubbard Bell in the Canadian premiere of The Bells Of Baddeck in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia and made a return appearance with the Mountain View Concert Series (Calgary). Her 2013-14 season included debuts with the Victoria and Kingston Symphonies and the Scotia Festival of Music where she sang the Villa Lobos Bachianas Brasileiras no. 5.

Ms. Angelo has recently appeared with the Toronto, Edmonton, Niagara, Winnipeg and Vancouver Symphonies, Symphony Nova Scotia, as well as the Boston POPS, the Tangelwood Festival Orchestra, the Elora Festival and Toronto's Luminato Festival. A grant recipient of the Canada Council of the Arts, she has been heard on CBC Radio and Bravo!Canada. This fall she will release her first professional CD, titled Moon Loves Its Light.
